The Glorious Fourth. The "Glorion Fourth," with its new significance, will hereafter be more generally celebrated than has been the custom for years past. Many of the principal Southern cities had great demonstrations on Monday last.

Senator B. R. Tillman, of South Caroling deliyoged a grand estimate Parameter.

Senator B. R. Tillman, of South Carolina, delivered a grand oration at Barnes-villo, Ga., and large crowds poured into the city on all trains to hear him. Mr. Tillman's subject was "Our Country," and for an hour and thirty minutes he held his audience entranced. He opposed the annexation of Hawaii, Cuba, Philippines or Porto Rico.

Philippines or Porto Rico.

Senator John L. McLaurin held first place on the programme at Sparfanburg, and delivered a very interesting and patriotic speech, in which he rehearsed many of the great deeds of America's heroes. His speech was grand and was heartily applauded by a large audience.

Anew flag was raised on Fort Moultip, om Sullivan's Island, with impressive ceremonics. The Charleston military companies joined the Moultire garrison, and as the flag was made fast at the top of its staff, Col. Rawles stopped forward and called for three cheers, which were heartily given. The Cuban colors were seen floating just beneath Old Glory on every hand.

In Augusta, Ga., large crowds cheered the Hon. John Temple Graves to the echo as he read the Declaration of Independence and delivered the oration of the day. The mational colors were displayed in great profusion and thousands joined in singing national airs.

Macon, Ga., also gave vent to her patriotism in an unstinted display of fireworks. The ovator of the day was Gov. Atkinson.

A Carolinian at the Front.

Among the recent graduates at the United States Military Academy at West Point, was Whitfield Jordan, a son of Mr. L. W. Jordan, of Seneca. He graduated as first lieutenant, and at once asked for assignment at the front of the United States forces now in Cuba. He especially wanted a position in General Shafter's old company. This was granted and he was assigned to Co. A, 1st Regiment of Infantry, United States Regulars. He is now at the front at Santiago, where the fighting is going on in deadly carnestfighting is going on in deadly carnest-ness. His many friends all over the State and in this city feel peculiarly in-terested for his welfare and safety; yet they feel assured that Whitfield Jordan will increase the proud prestige of Car-olina and add fresh lustre to her imper-ishable history on the battlefields of Cuba, no matter where or under what condi-tions.—Spartanburg Herald.

In General Lawton's division the second Massachusetts had, up to the middle of the day, sustained the heaviest loss, although other regiments were more actively engaged. During the afternoon the fight for the possession of El Caney was most obstinate, and the ultimate victory reflects great credit was the American trees. upon the American troops. It was a glory, too, for Spain, though she never glory, too, for Spain, though she nover had a chance to win at any time during the day. The American soldiers attacked the attenchments through open ground, and from the firing of the first shot until they were on the hills above Caney they fought their way forward and the Span-ish were driven backward. General Chaffee's brigade held the right of the Chaffee's brigade held the right of the line, with the town of Caney. General Ludlow's division was in the center and Colonel Mills held the left.

The plan-of battle was for Captain Allan-Capron's battery, of the First Artiflery, which held a position in the center, above General Ludlow, to shell the fort near the town, for General Chaffee to close in as soon as the artiflery had fort near the town, for General Chaffee to close in as soon as the artillery had reduced the fort and driven the Spaniards toward Santiago, General Ludlow to lay in the road below the hill on which Captain Capron's battery was stationed and swing in on General Chaffee's left, while Colonel Mills's brigade was to keep close to General Ludlow's right and by a simultaneous movement sween by a simultaneous movement sweep the Spaniards in toward Caney.

General Lawton, who personally di-rected the operations of his division, left his camp on the road from Siboney to Santiago at 4 p. m. and at 5 o'clock was with Captain Capron's battery on the hill above Caney.

Orders were given that the battle should begin from the center, unless General Chaffee, who was nearest to the enemy, should find himself attacked

CAPRON'S BATTERY'S GOOD WORK. Captain Capron's battery opened on the enemy at once and tore the ground up with shells, sending clouds of dirt-high into the air. The battery also sent a number of shells entirely through the fort, tearing down large sections of the walls. This fine markmanship was re-peated several times, the battery stopping the fire of the Spanish soldiers who had opened repeatedly from the covered way pits. By 8 o'clock Gen. Chaffee's brigade was pressing in toward the town and the fixing at intervals was very warm. It was very difficult to see anything of the battle, owing to the rolling nature of the ground and the dense vegetation that obscured the view in almost every direc-tion made it impossible to see far.

The firing at times was very heavy during the morning, but the Spaniards in the covered way made a most obstinate defence and refused to yield an inch Time and again the shells from Capt. Capron's battery drove them to cover, but as soon as his fire ceased they were up and at it again.

Despite the heavy firing of the American troops, they were able to make but little apparent progress during the morning, although eventually they steadily drew in and enclosed the town on all sides. At noon it became evident that drew in and enclosed the town on all sides. At noon it became evident that the fire from the covered way could not be stopped by the artillery alone and that no permanent advance could be made until the place was taken, and Gen. Lawton decided to capture it by assault. Accordingly he sent a messenger to Gen. Chaffee with instructions to take the position by a charge. Gen. Chaffee there upon closed in with his men rapidly from the north, while Capt. Capron maintained the north, while Capt. Capron maintained a heavy fire on that fort, keeping the Spaniards in the covered way and putting hole after hole into the stone walls of the fort. The brigades of Col. Mills and Gen. Ludlow had more of this work to perform than those of Gen. Chaffee and they were compelled to make their final charges on the town across an open space through which the Spanish fire swept with deadly effect.

No finer work has ever been done by soldiers than was done by the brigades of Gen. Ludlow and Col. Mills as they closed in or the town. The Spanish blazed away at them with Mausers and machine guus, but without effect. Nothing could stop them and they pushed in closer and closer during the afternoon and by the time Gen. Chaffee's men were in form Mills and Ludlow were on the skirts of the town, holding on with tenacity and preventing the Spaniards from retreating toward Santiago, while Chaffee closed in on the right. The fighting for hours in front of Colonel Mills' line at a hacienda known as Duero house was very flerce. The Spaniard defense was exceedingly obstinate. The house was guarded by rifle pits and as fast as the Spaniards were driven from one they retreated into another and continued their fire. The Spanish made an attack in force on our position, pouring in volley after volley in quick succession and with remarkable regularity. Our return fire was certainly effective and continued strong after the Spanish volleys had become rarer and less heavy. The shelling from the Spanish fleet was less active and apparently gave our fleet but little concern.

The South Carolina Regiment has again escaped from being sent to the front, owing to the fact that they are not fully equipped. On Sunday, July 3d, orders were received at Chickamauga for the mmediate moving of about 20,000 troops. Georgia is the only Southern State rep-sented in the troops sent to make up this

A terrible tornado struck Hampton, N. II., on July 4th, causing much damage to property and great loss of life. The tornade's path was about 100 feet wide, and in a short while twenty-three residences and two hotels were torn down. The greatest loss of life was caused by the destruction of a skating rink, a building 500 by 100 feet. ELECTION TICKETS
